European vs public identity: is confirmation existing?

On May 16, 2017 the space bridge “European vs public identity: is confirmation existing?” was arranged in the Barents EU Centre within the framework of EU Research Club.

The Club has existed since 2012 and it was created within the framework of the project “Establishing the EU Centre in the Barents Region of Russia”, implemented under financial support of the European Union.

This time the meeting had the format of space bridge with the representatives from the Faculties of Law, Economics and Philology and public members participated in the meeting. Such variety of participants allowed to discuss the questions of EU development, public identity and relations between Russian and the EU from different points of view.

The meeting was arranged during the interesting period when some questions related to external policy of the EU and European identity were especially sharp. Thus, the discussion was very active. So, both sides came to conclusion that such meetings should be conducted more often as they allow to exchange the opinions and be informed about first-hand position of experts.

Study Course "European Law"

On July 20, 2017 the work on developing and delivering lectures on the course "European Law" was completed at the EU Info Centre of PetrSU.

Lectures were given in English in the framework of the "Open Module on the European Union" project, carried out with the financial support of the Erasmus + program of the European Union.

The course included such topics as the concept of European law, the relationship between European law and the national legislation of EU member states, EU institutions and the decision-making process, the legal basis of relations between Russia and the EU and an analysis of their development.

The teacher was Anastasia A. Kuznetsova, Director of the EU Info Center.

The total volume of the course is 108 academic hours.

The students had the opportunity to practice and improve their knowledge of the language and get information on the subject of the course. The course used an interactive teaching methodology, classes included games and debates.

Reviews have led to the conclusion that the course has provided useful and new information for both its own and for the professional development of students. Participants praised the new methods of learning. In addition, they have acquired and improved skills that will be useful for their future study and work.
